I live in [REDACTED], and am part of the West Bay. We hope and are asking for you to take this opportunity to explore different methods of addressing the jobs-housing imbalance. This plan leads to a high cost of living, pollution, traffic congestion, and loss of local control and livability. There are other areas, such as San Jose, and other cities on the other side of the Bay, that would welcome more jobs, and they have the housing.

Sincerely,

Suzanne Keehn
